Retail Customer Purchase Analytics - Data Dictionary

Business Context

The Retail Customer Purchase Analytics dataset captures customer information and product purchase transactions. The dataset supports customer analytics, sales analysis, purchasing behavior analysis, revenue reporting, and customer segmentation. By combining customer demographics with purchase transactions, analysts can evaluate buying patterns, customer value, product performance, and sales trends across different customer groups.

Customer

Table Description

The Customer table serves as the customer master table within the dataset. It contains demographic and profile information for customers and provides the foundation for customer segmentation, demographic analysis, and customer value analysis. This table is commonly used to understand customer characteristics and purchasing behavior.

Column Name	Description	Unit
customer_id	Unique identifier assigned to a customer.	Identifier first_name	First name of the customer.	Text last_name	Last name of the customer.	Text gender	Gender of the customer.	Category age	Age of the customer.	Years country	Country from which the customer originates.	Country income	Income of the customer.	Currency

Purchase

Table Description

The Purchase table contains transactional information related to customer orders. Each record represents a product purchased by a customer and includes product details, pricing information, taxes, quantities, shipping costs, and shipment dates. This table supports sales analysis, revenue analysis, product performance evaluation, and customer purchasing behavior analysis.

Column Name	Description	Unit
order_id	Unique identifier assigned to an order.	Identifier customer_id	Unique identifier assigned to the customer.	Identifier product_name	Name of the product purchased.	Text description	Description of the product.	Text price	Selling price of the product.	Currency tax	Applicable tax on the product.	Percentage order_date	Date on which the order was placed.	Date quantity	Quantity of the product ordered.	Units shipping_cost	Cost associated with shipping the order.	Currency shipping_date	Date on which the order was shipped.	Date